PASTOR'S CORNER

My Dear Family,

Patriotism is a virtue, so says St. Thomas Aquinas, for it is part of fulfilling the fourth commandment: Honor your Father and Mother. But what kind of patriotism can be considered virtuous? Surely not a kind of patriotism that gloats about our country's superiority or past accomplishments. Rather, virtuous patriotism is true love of one's country in the same way as a father or mother. Our motherland is a place that we love and honor by an honorable life and the desire to build up our nation in a Godly way. It is a desire to, in some small way, make our country better every day by being civil and decent folk, caught up in a desire to see the land flourish. Therefore, love your country, remember its history, and be a part of that history for a brighter future.
